ANNUAL REPORT

A LETTER FROM THE DEAN

Dear Alumnae Legacy Circle members,

Over the past seven years, the Alumnae Legacy Circle (ALC) has exemplified unwavering dedication to Columbia College. I am truly grateful for the efforts of this group, which has expanded to 144 alumnae from around the world. The growth of this leadership society is a testament to the importance of the ALC and the enthusiasm for philanthropy driven by women's leadership.

In the pages of the 2022–23 Alumnae Legacy Circle Annual Report, you will find highlights from the year that showcase the continued efforts of this remarkable cohort. Your generosity made an impact on the lives of our students through need-based financial aid, internships and research stipends, the Core Curriculum, student life offerings and much more. Throughout the fiscal year, the ALC collectively raised $3.32 million for Columbia College, of which $1.93 million was allocated to the Columbia College Fund.

During my first year as dean of Columbia College, I had the opportunity to connect with many of you. With events like the Dean's Circle, Dean's Scholarship, and John Jay Associates Receptions, as well as ALC-exclusive events, I had a chance to get to know this inspiring group. I would like to offer special thanks to Co-chairs Kelley Badishkanian CC'98, BUS'08, Germaine Choe CC'95 and Diana Greenwald CC'11 as well as Vice Chairs Sarah Aibel CC'92, P: CC'23, CC'25 and Emily N. Hu CC'95, VPS'00.

Thank you again for your generosity and partnership as members of the ALC. Your dedication enables the College to offer the best undergraduate experience possible for our students.

Respect,

Josef Sorett
Dean of Columbia College
Vice President for Undergraduate Education
Professor of Religion & African American and

A MESSAGE FROM OUR CO-CHAIRS

Dear fellow members,

Thank you for generous support of Columbia College and your commitment to this remarkable group of women. We are proud of this community and delighted to share this annual report with you.

This year, the ALC welcomed 11 new members, which brought membership to 144, including 11 alumnae who graduated in the last 10 years. Five members celebrated their 5th anniversary and an incredible 67 members have been here from the start of the ALC.

We also celebrated members of the ALC in their successes. In November 2022, Claire C. Shipman CC'86, SIPA'94 was honored with the Alexander Hamilton Medal — the highest honor awarded to a member of the Columbia College community for distinguished service to the College and accomplishment in any field of endeavor. In January 2023, we saw Sherri P. Wolf CC'90, P: CC'21, CC'24 be named president of the Columbia College Alumni Association — the second woman to lead the association in its nearly 200-year history. In March 2023, Anna E. Brockway CC'92, P: CC'26 was among the recipients of the John Jay Award for her distinguished professional achievements as an alumna of Columbia College.

As we look back on the successes and growth of the ALC, we are humbled by your support and generosity. Please join us in reflecting on 2022–23 through the pages of this report.

Sincerely,

Kelley Badishkanian CC'98, BUS'08

2022-23 COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

NEW UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

In July 2023, Nemat “Minouche” Shafik became the 20th president of Columbia University, making her the first female president in the University’s history. President Shafik is a leading economist whose remarkable career has focused on public policy and academia. Her most recent book, What We Owe Each Other: A New Social Construct, challenges institutions and individuals to rethink how we can better support each other.

ALC members Lisa L. Carnoy CC’89, P: CC’26 (Committee Chair), Abigail Elbaum CC’92, BUS’94, Wanda M. Holland Greene CC’89, TC’91, TC’21 and Claire C. Shipman CC’86, SIPA’94 served as members of the Presidential Search Committee.

DEAN SORETT’S FIRST YEAR

This year was Josef Sorett’s first as dean of Columbia College. Dean Sorett joined the Columbia faculty in 2009 as a professor in the departments of Religion and African American & African Diaspora Studies. He connected with Columbia College alumni at events throughout the country, including Boston, Miami, San Francisco and Los Angeles. His second book, Black is a Church: Christianity and the Contours of (African) American Life was published in March 2023.

CORE KNOWLEDGE BOOK SERIES LAUNCHES

Inspired by the Core Curriculum, the Core Knowledge Book Series aims to deliver the intellectual energy and creative thinking of the Core’s classes to a wider audience. The series, published by Columbia University Press, acts as a companion to Core courses and is written by faculty from Columbia College and other institutions.

In February, the College hosted more than 100 students, alumni and faculty in Low Library to hear a discussion with professors Elisabeth Ladenson, Gareth Williams and Philip Kitcher, moderated by Dean Josef Sorett.

EXPANSION OF FINANCIAL AID

During the 2022–23 academic year, Columbia College rolled out several financial aid enhancements. Families with typical assets and incomes below $66,000 are no longer expected to contribute to the cost of their student’s education. In addition, students from families with typical assets and incomes up to $150,000 attend Columbia tuition-free. The College also introduced $2,000 start-up grants, which are awarded to low-income, first-year students to ease their transition to college.

CLASS OF 2027

Columbia College and The Fu Foundation School of Engineering and Applied Science selected the incoming Class of 2027 from the third-largest-ever applicant pool. 2,246 students were accepted from 57,129 applicants, making this year’s overall admission rate 3.9 percent — the second lowest in admissions history. The Class of 2027 hails from all 50 states and 101 countries, highlighting Columbia’s ever-expanding global reputation. Approximately half of admitted students were offered need-based financial aid.

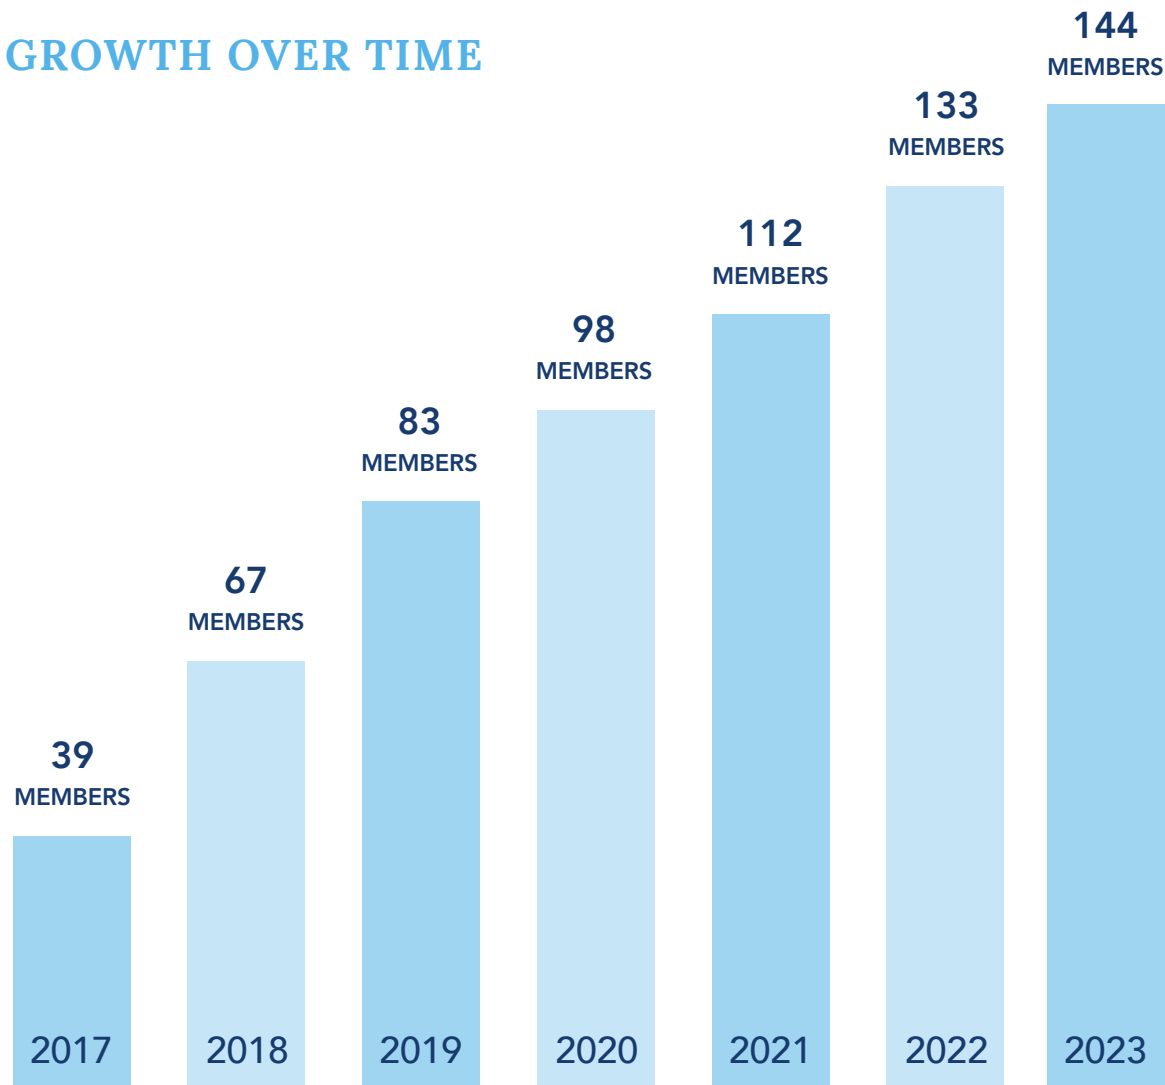

TRANSFORMATION OF URIS HALL

As part of the ever-improving Morningside campus, Uris Hall will transform into a central meeting place with flexible classrooms and gathering spaces. This exciting intellectual hub will draw together students and faculty — promoting innovation and community, and amplifying the public impact of teaching, learning and research.

2022-23 ALUMNAE LEADERS

Alumnae Legacy Circle members are leaders at Columbia. They serve the Columbia community in a multitude of ways — as members of boards, committees and giving societies as well as through their engagement in the ALC.

2022-23 AREAS OF SUPPORT

SUPPORT OF THE COLUMBIA COLLEGE FUND

Members of the Alumnae Legacy Circle generously contributed $1.93 million to the Columbia College Fund during the 2022-23 Fiscal Year. These gifts are current-use — this means the full amount is immediately available to be spent. Donations to the Columbia College Fund can be unrestricted, so they can be used where they are needed most, or directed to the Core Curriculum, financial aid, internships or student life.

SUPPORT BEYOND THE COLLEGE FUND

ALC members gave an additional $1.39 million to other areas of Columbia College by supporting various funds, including $799,000 to endowed scholarship funds. Endowed funds provide Columbia with a reliable source of income in perpetuity. They are invested and the accumulated appreciation and income is used to fund an annual distribution. Combined with the College Fund, this support helps the College meet the needs of students each year.

SUPPORT ACROSS COLUMBIA

ALC members demonstrated their commitment to Columbia by giving $1.91 million to other areas of the University, supporting student success, faculty excellence and so much more.

MULTI-YEAR COMMITMENTS

Multi-year commitments are leadership pledges that are paid over a period of three to five years. They offer the College a promise of ongoing support and enable donors to invest in the future of the school. Thirteen members of the ALC generously made new multi-year commitments to support the most vital needs of the College.

1754 SOCIETY

The 1754 Society is a giving society for alumni, parents and friends who make plans for the University through trust, estate or other future gifts. Membership includes special recognition and access to unique speakers and experiences.

The following members of the ALC are also members of the 1754 Society.

*1754 Society Committee Member

Daria L. Ibn-Tamas CC'96 joined both the ALC and the 1754 Society in 2023 by making the Columbia College Fund a part of her estate plans. Daria has been a longtime supporter of the College Fund because of the many Columbia friendships that have enriched her life, particularly those formed in student government and her sorority, Alpha Kappa Alpha. Daria will serve as the ALC's first 1754 Ambassador and looks forward to sharing how meaningful a planned gift to Columbia can be with her fellow ALC members.

COLLEGE WALK SOCIETY

The College Walk Society (CWS) is a leadership giving society for alumni, parents and friends who make a meaningful contribution in support of financial aid at the College. Members are the College's most generous and loyal financial aid donors who share the belief that the opportunity to pursue knowledge should not be constrained by a student's background or ability to pay.

So far, the College has welcomed over 100 donors, including the following members of the ALC.

- Kelley Buechel Badishkanian CC'98, BUS'08
- Lydia C. Callaghan CC'92, SW'24
- Germaine Choe CC'95
- Mary Corley Dunn CC'98
- Lexi S. Diamond CC'91, CC'26
- Cornelia L. Gallo CC'88

- Sejal Patel Daswani CC'95, SIPA'96
- Sandy Wang CC'92, P: CC'24
- Nina Zipser CC'94
- Anonymous CC'92

Sunny Kim CC'97 joined the ALC in 2020 and the College Walk Society in 2023 with a gift to establish the LCR Scholarship, a current-use scholarship. It's important to Sunny to support the College's most pressing priorities, and she knows that a gift to financial aid is critical to the enduring legacy of a Columbia College education.

The CWS was launched in 2021 as part of the College's Financial Aid Initiative. So far, this campaign has brought in more than $330 million towards its goal of raising $500 million by 2027.

2022-23 NAMED SCHOLARSHIPS

Alumnae Legacy Circle members funded 37 current-use and endowed Named Scholarships at Columbia College during the 2022-23 academic year. These scholarships provide critical support to students, enabling them to make the most of their Columbia experience. Meet a few of the inspiring students who benefited from ALC support.

"I am thankful for getting the chance to proceed with my education at this amazing institution. I get to explore the Core in depth — it's amazing to learn more about the philosophies that shape the world we live in. I love being in New York City and learning from this diverse place."

— Wangui Wambugu CC'26

Recipient of the Diamond Family Scholarship, established by Lexi S. Diamond CC'91, P: CC'26

"I'm eternally grateful for the Callaghan Family Scholarship Fund. I wouldn't be able to do anything I'm currently doing if it wasn't for this financial help. The impact of this aid is truly indescribable and has provided me the opportunity to study in such a magical place as Columbia."

— Sebastian Gonzalez-Quintero CC'25

Recipient of the Callaghan Family Scholarship, established by Lydia C. Callaghan CC'92, SW'24

"Financial support was a big factor in whether or not I was going to be able to attend Columbia. I come from a low-income family, so having access to these resources will help my pursuit of an astrophysics degree and is deeply appreciated. Columbia is a diverse university, and I have been able to find an incredible balance within the school. Looking beyond college, I hope to do research in the field of astrophysics and become a science communicator for generations to come."

— Sosaia Talanoa CC'26

Recipient of the Lang Family Scholarship, established by Grace Lang CC'93

"Attending Columbia College has been a dream of mine for a long time, but the cost was something I immediately considered before applying. I would not, and could never, willingly put more financial pressure on my parents after seeing how hard they have worked for every single one of my opportunities. So when I saw my financial aid package, it was like a burden was lifted off of me. Frantic searches for scholarships slowed, loan discussions over the dinner table stopped, and I finally could think solely about my future. All I have to do is succeed."

— Adebola Adewale CC'26

Recipient of the Abigail Elbaum Scholarship, established by Abigail Elbaum CC'92, BUS'94

ALC MEMBER FEATURE

When reading last year's Alumnae Legacy Circle Annual Report, Mary O'Donnell Hulme CC'92, SIPA'95 and Kathryn R. O'Donnell-Schlatter CC'93 were surprised to see each other on the list of new members. The sisters had both joined the ALC in April 2022 without the other's knowledge. Their individual and shared experiences as students inspired them to give back to Columbia College and continue to be meaningful in their relationship with each other.

Mary was the first to choose Columbia, entering as a first-year student in the fall of 1988. Mary and Kathryn's mother was hopeful that Mary would choose Columbia. As someone who grew up in the suburbs, their father was more hesitant of the city environment. After they took her for a campus tour, she said the environment was "expansive and cozy at the same time." She felt free to explore all of New York City but she could always rely on the Columbia community as a home base.

Mary, 1992

Kathryn became interested in exploring Columbia when she saw her older sister's student experience. The following year, Kathryn entered her first year at the College. Both lived in Carman Hall during their first year and valued how diverse their residence hall was at the time. They noted how this exposed them to new perspectives and led to robust conversations surrounding the Core Curriculum in and outside of the classroom.

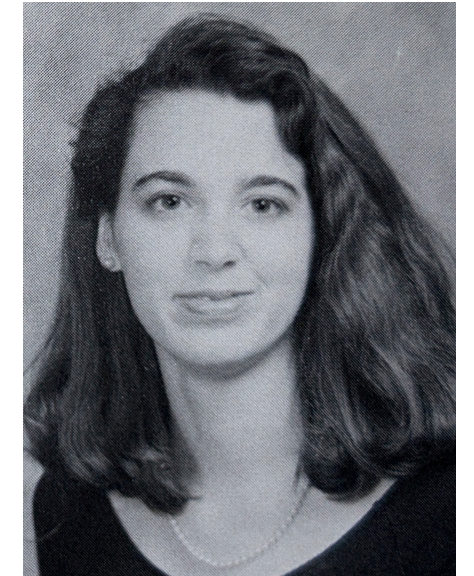

Mary and Kathryn's connection to Columbia didn't end at graduation. When interviewing young women interested in attending Columbia and hearing their stories, in conjunction with the rising cost of a college education, they found themselves motivated to join the ALC. When Kathryn reflects on her time as a student, she appreciates how the generosity of alumni before her paved a way for many of her peers to attend Columbia — several of whom she remains friends with today. Mary appreciates the intellectual skills that the Core gave her and seeks to support other women in receiving these skills from the curriculum. Both believe that their philanthropy to the College has deepened their bond to Columbia by connecting them to the needs of current students.

Similarly, their time at the College and in the ALC deepened their relationship with one another. Kathryn says her shared educational experience with her sister "remains foundational" to their relationship. It has allowed them to explore mutual interests beyond what most siblings share. Both developed an affinity for art history and Shakespeare after taking classes with Professor Meyer Shapiro. They still like to meet in the city when there is an exhibition that excites them like Lauren Halsey's Metropolitan Museum Rooftop and the Van Gogh Cypresses exhibits. Mary fondly remembers visiting museums in the city with her Art Humanities Professor, Vidya Dehejia, who taught Indian and Islamic Art at the time. This class gave both sisters a new lens through which to explore art that anchors their relationship in many ways today.

When Mary was asked what being a part of the ALC means to her, she said that, "Columbia has given me so much. I want to support the next generation of students and for them to have the same benefits that I received from my Columbia experience. Those benefits ranged from having intellectual conversations to making lifelong friends to spending time in New York City."

Similarly, Kathryn recalled reading the student biographies from scholarship recipients in last year's Alumnae Legacy Circle Annual Report and feeling "so proud and impressed" with her alma mater. She said, "reading about these students is really inspiring! I want to continue to support this because we should invest in the talent that we have when it is impactful and makes a difference in their lives and our community. It's the students who are inspiring. I was reading [the Annual Report] thinking 'Oh my goodness, these students are incredible!' It's hard for that [feeling] to not be infectious — and you want to participate in that."
